Chris and his crew were a pleasure to work with on our bathroom remodelling. They stuck to their timeline and produced a beautiful finished product that exceeded my expectations. As this was our first renovation, it was great to have Chris's expertise and recommendations. I would definitely recommend Chris and his crew and have no doubt we will be calling him for more remodelling in the future.

I highly recommend Chris Ruggieri and his team. We have done several reno projects with contractors in the area over the years and we will be using Ruggieri & Co for all our future projects, we were that pleased. Chris has a team of employees that are rare in the business – they are hardworking, honest, clean, respectful, talented, and a joy to have in your home. Chris worked with me on my vision for our bathroom and window/slider replacements and added so much value in terms of design and construction ideas. I really appreciated this consultative approach and the fact that he didn't hesitate to meet me at the tile store or even go select a countertop for us (and send pictures so we didn't have to). He worked with us throughout the entire process and made sure we were always satisfied with the work and outcome. If we ever had a concern, he was quick to respond and, if needed, he was right over here to alter what we needed. He is laid back and enthusiastic and put us at ease with our project – which was for sure not the case with other contractors we have used. One other thing to note, which is huge, is that his quote was very fair and there were no change orders for our project. Chris is a man of his word, and we were very happy with how everything turned out. But honestly, you aren't just hiring Chris, you are hiring his team and I would give them each 5 stars if I could. Know you are in good hands with Ruggieri & Co. *Including before and after pictures here so you can see how dramatically this team changed our bathroom (custom vanity, steam shower with floor to ceiling tilework, framed out the door and installed a vintage door as a barn door, removed a window, and more) as well as other parts of our house with window/door replacements.

Chris and his team are the absolute best! Not only is their work superior, the rates were reasonable with no hidden costs. They went above and beyond on our bathroom remodel and it turned out perfect! Chris and his team are trustworthy, friendly, and professional. We will definitely be using them again for future projects.

A++ service!! Chris and his crew are just nearing the full completion of a master bathroom renovation, and we are very pleased with the results so far. The quality of the work is great, and the team has been very professional. They were able to answer all our questions and address any concerns that came up. Great communication. They have been very respectful being in our house and were always friendly and considerate. I will use their services in the future.

Chris' talents go beyond your typical contractor. He has true artistic ability. I trust his design decisions fully and he brings to life something better than I myself could envision. The materials he chooses are so well thought out for both beauty and function. So far, I have used him to remodel 4 bathrooms and redo all the flooring in my home. He also created a beautiful coffee bar that I get compliments on every time someone enters my home. When opening your home to strangers working on a project for months at a time, you need to be sure they are respectful. His crew is very respectful. There was not one time when I felt uncomfortable about them being in my home. I absolutely LOVE the work that has been done and plan on using Ruggieri & Co for many more projects.

After meeting with several contractors, we were very underwhelmed with their vision and lack of guidance with our project. Then came Chris! He did a walkthrough of our home, discussed what we had in mind and set up a follow up appointment to go over the details. He sketched the layout and completely blew our minds! Our home was built in the 80's, old brick fireplace, sectioned off rooms, not functional and out dated. From the lighting, opening up walls, removing the old fireplace, adding a completely new built in, with mirrors artistically designed, a bar in our old living room, transformed to an amazing game room, updating our staircase, front door with black matte paint and redesigned a closed off wall in our entryway! I could go on & on with the attention to detail! Chris sourced all of our materials and his experience is evident! The crew were on time, Professionnel, kind, clean and talented! Chris & his crew are the BEST of the BEST! Looking forward to his vision in our bathroom remodel! We really appreciate Chris taking our project on and delivering such outstanding results!
